

Dissemination

Ioanna Deligkiozi and Andreas Gondikas from AXIA Innovation attended the ENF2019

GREENER dissemination material

GREENER partner AXIA Innovation attended the EuroNanoForum 2019 (ENF19) event, that took place in Bucharest Romania, during 12-14 June 2019. The event welcomed approx. 1000 participants from Europe and across the globe and offered opportunities for discussions on cross-sectorial challenges focusing on both the industrial application of research results and future strategic research priorities in the area of Nanotechnology and Advanced Materials of the Horizon 2020 NMBP Programme and beyond. AXIA is responsible for dissemination activities in the project and through their participation they aimed at networking with scientists and stakeholders among Europe, highlighting the importance of environmental remediation in soil and water resources.
